

Miss Anne W. Weston,

21 Cornhill,

Boston,

Smith, Evelina P.

Ms. A.H.6 A.2.79

Dear Miss Weston,
I am glad to see you
fill your master's place so well in the articles that appear
now and then, bespeaking the attention of the friends of the Fair. I hope they will be effectual in arousing all those who can be aroused to make any exertions. I was at Duxbury a short time ago, & found that Charlotte Broadford would come to the fair & stay throughout it if she could be useful. I think she is just one of those faithful & conscientious persons that we need at the Hall; that will take charge of a table, feel the responsibility of being always present, & an interest in getting off the things. I told her I thought you could find some thing for her to do, so I dare say she will come, and you can depend upon her doing well whatever she undertakes. I hope you will dream up well

about the refreshments. I shall send a few private notes
around where I think they may do good.
I hope you and your sisters are all fat & hearty, & will keep your strength to exhaust during the Fair. I hope someone will speak to Mrs Loving our house-keeper in season, & also see if we can obtain crockery

of Mr. Callamore or some other good man.
I cannot conveniently
go in until the afternoon before the Fair opens.

In haste yours,

Edwin A. Smith.
